Book Review Corner

Rollback

By Robert J. Sawyer

Science Fiction with a psychological edge always catches my eye. Sarah was the first scientist to decode the first encrypted message from another planet to earth. Since transmissions of messages and replies takes around fifty years, what will the scientific community do when she is not alive to work on the next message? Luckily science has advanced enough to allow Sarah to rollback her age from 80 to 25, and extend her life for another sixty years. When she refuses to do the rollback without her husband, and only his rollback works, they truly face a new, more difficult world.

By Barbara Neil.

This book can be found at SF/SAW.

Volunteer Profile: Booksale Volunteers

Jeff and Bobbie

Terry and Daniel

The Lebanon Community Library conducted a used book sale in September. Book sales such as this are held approximately four times a year at the Lebanon Community Library to sell donated and withdrawn items. These book sales could not be conducted without the support provided by our library volunteers. Staff and volunteers sort, display, monitor, and clean up thousands of books, audios, and videos. The library accepts donations of books, audios, music CDs, and videos during the regular hours of library operation. If you would like to be included in the call list for short term volunteer opportunities such as the book sale, please contact Karen Stump, volunteer coordinator at the Lebanon Community Library at 273-7624 ext. 211.
